

Job Safety Skills Society

A partnership of industry,
education and government

January 17, 2012

To All School Career Counselors

Re: Job Safety Skills Society's
James Rintoul OH&S Memorial Scholarship

The Job Safety Skills Society recently established a new OH&S Scholarship in memory of a young worker, James Rintoul who died as the result of workplace incident. (Additional information is available on the JSSS website, www.jobsafetykills.com.)

We would like your assistance in promoting the attached information to young adults graduating from an Alberta high school who may be interested in pursuing a career in the Occupational Health and Safety field.

Enclosed is a short promotional article should you wish to publish it in your student newsletter, on your website, etc.

Any support that you can provide in spreading the word about this new scholarship will be greatly appreciated.

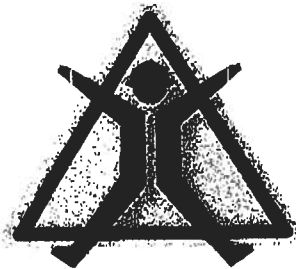

Thanks for your time and consideration,

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "M. Alpern".

Michael Alpern
Executive Director

Att.

Job Safety Skills Society

- A Partnership of Industry, Education and Government -

The Job Safety Skills Society (JSSS) has established a new OH&S Scholarship in memory of James Rintoul who died as a result of a workplace incident.

The James Rintoul OH&S Memorial Scholarship is funded by the Job Safety Skills Society to support the completion of an Occupational Health and Safety (OH&S) Certificate taken through the Faculty of Extension, University of Alberta.

This memorial scholarship will be awarded to a graduate with a High School Diploma from an Alberta high school or be expecting to graduate with a High School diploma from an Alberta high school in the year of application, who meets the required eligibility criteria (available online at www.jobsafetyskills.com or by contacting the JSSS at (866) 513-6876.

For the annual scholarship winner, the costs of enrolling in courses leading to the earning of Faculty of Extension, University of Alberta OH&S Certificate will be paid by the Job Safety Skills Society up to a total of $5,500.

The application deadline is May 1st for each year that the scholarship will be awarded.

Submissions may be sent either electronically to jobsafe@shaw.ca or by fax to 1-866-513-6877 or by mail to:

Job Safety Skills Society
Box 37073 Lynwood PO
Edmonton, AB T5R 5Y2